

Comment by Email

Sent 1/11/06

Natural Gas Supply/Demand Notice of Inquiry

Sender Name: Toby Sarver

Company/Organization: Piedmont Biofuels

Hello,

Natural gas is an important fuel source as it contributes to increased air quality, and much investment has been made in transportation, generating heat and electricity.

Have you considered creating incentives for replacing natural gas with biomethane (generated from biodigesters, which take manure and other agricultural wastes as input)?

Here is the link to a USDA-funded report about making biomethane (which can be used almost any device that burns natural gas or LPG) on a large scale:

<http://www.westernuniteddairymen.com/USDA%20Grant/USDAgrantfinalreport.htm>

Thanks

--Toby Sarver

<http://biofuels.coop>